

I do NOT want the ban lifted to allow the use of wireless devices on airplanes. Even IF the newest wireless devices do not cause interference that might harm passenger safety (and I don't think you know that for sure), how would you ensure that only the newer "safe" wireless devices would be used onboard? Are you going to check out the make & model of every passenger's cellphone, computer, game, etc. before boarding? Please do NOT lift the ban.